COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The bids are back and have been opened for the removal of 61 diseased elm trees. There were four invitations to bid and three of the companies returned bids. The selectmen are satisfied with the low bidder and as soon as I get the approval of the tree committee I expect the contract will be awarded. There was a nine hundred dollar range between the high and low bidders. I am almost certain that the money available will be enough to pay for the cutting of the trees and the hauling away of the wood and brush by the town highway crew.

The removal of eighty elm trees is not the end of the problem. The town crew has already cut about twenty trees. Next year there will be some dead trees that were not dead this year. There will also be some partially diseased trees that can be saved by pruning. I believe the single most important item of business will be planting trees that will someday replace the ones that are being lost each year.

Tax payments through October of this year were about $80,000.00. Last year the payments through October were $20,000.00. The extra $60,000.00 has helped the financial situation of the town.

There are some accounts that will be overdrawn by a large amount this year. The notable one is the town welfare account. The expenditures in this account have increased a great deal due partly to elderly persons being in nursing homes. These people get much better care than persons of the same age a few years ago. Of course the state pays for the nursing home expenses and the town is responsible for all other expenses that the individual can not pay. I believe that the extra care that these people get is well worth the small amount of money that it costs the town.

Den 3 met at Mrs. Stecher's Nov. 2. We made a secret code wheel and we talked about making a terrarium soon. —Keeper of the Buckskin, Paul Farrar.

Cub Scouts: We sanded the covers for the scrapbook for the children's hospital and for our Den Scrapbook. Next week we will do the woodburning on them. We held our den ceremonies and chose a Den yell. We also sang songs. Today was Kim Parker's birthday. Peter Blake's was Nov. 1st and Dennis Brown's is Nov. 5th, so Mrs. Parker had a birthday cake for them which was made by Mrs. Leona Flint and decorated like a baseball diamond. We chose what we wanted to do for wood carving. Jack Bailey was absent because he was sick. Chuck Mason has refreshments next week. Keeper of the Buckskin, Chuck Mason.

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

God gives unto each of us natural talents—aptitudes—to be used for His honor and glory. Good workmanship is always pleasing to God. Careless work discredits the Christian. "Why is there never time enough to do it right, but always time to do it over?" reads a sign in an automobile repair shop. Let us, O God, be faithful in our tasks. May the work of our hands glorify thee.

WEEK IN OXFORD CO.

Ground was broken last week for the construction of a 52-bed nursing home off Route 2 in East Rumford. It is to be of cement block construction and located on a five-acre site about 1100 feet from the road. It will probably be ready for occupancy about mid-May, 1966. The owner is Eli A. Gander, Rumford.

Kenneth Cooper of Buckfield was re-elected president of the Oxford County Extension Association at the 45th annual convention of the Association last Thursday evening at the First Congregational Church, South Paris.

Mrs. Helen Mendes, Dixfield, attended a dinner in Augusta Friday evening honoring Tree Farmers for the past 10 years. Mrs. Mendes represented her husband, the late Anthony Mendes, who was the outstanding Tree Farmer of 1956.

Chairman of the board of trustees of Fryburg Academy has announced that a new girls' dormitory will be built. It will accommodate 42 girls and will be built on the site now occupied by Frye House. Alton J. Harriman Associates, Inc., of Auburn, has been named as architect.

Clinton Gammon, 44, of Hartford, reportedly received a broken collar bone, shoulder and heavy bruises last Thursday when he was repairing a grade-all on a construction job on Route 108 near Canton. He was hospitalized.

W. Keith Foster, Rumford Center, recently retired after 57 years as engineer-draftsman at the Rumford Falls Power Co. and was tendered a dinner party by fellow employees and associates of the Company at Madison's Restaurant on Oct. 27.

Raymond B. Wiley of Wiley Construction Co., Scarborough was awarded the contract to build the new Oxford High School on the former Oxford County Fairgrounds. Norway-Park Construction Co. is under way. Construction of the contract calls for the school to be completed by Dec. 15, 1966. It had not been determined at last reports whether Norway or Paris would supply the water for the building.

Robinson will be at Hebron Academy on Nov. 5. On Nov. 8 he will visit Gould Academy, Bridgton Academy, and Fryebury Academy.

DON'T CARRY LOADED GUNS IN VEHICLES

Maine's Fish and Game Commissioner and the Chairman of the Governor's Committee on Hunting safety have issued a joint warning on the dangers of carrying loaded guns in motor vehicles.

Commissioner Ronald T. Speers and Chairman Alonzo H. Garcelon pointed out that not only is the practice against the law but last year was the cause of three accidental shootings. So far in 1965, loaded guns in vehicles have caused at least two accidents, one of them fatal.

The Maine Warden Service has been directed to keep a special watch on this practice and clamp down on violators.
